

Urban Agriculture in New York City

Urban Agriculture World Summit

Nerima City, Tokyo
December 1, 2019

Bill LoSasso
Director, NYC Parks GreenThumb

Parks

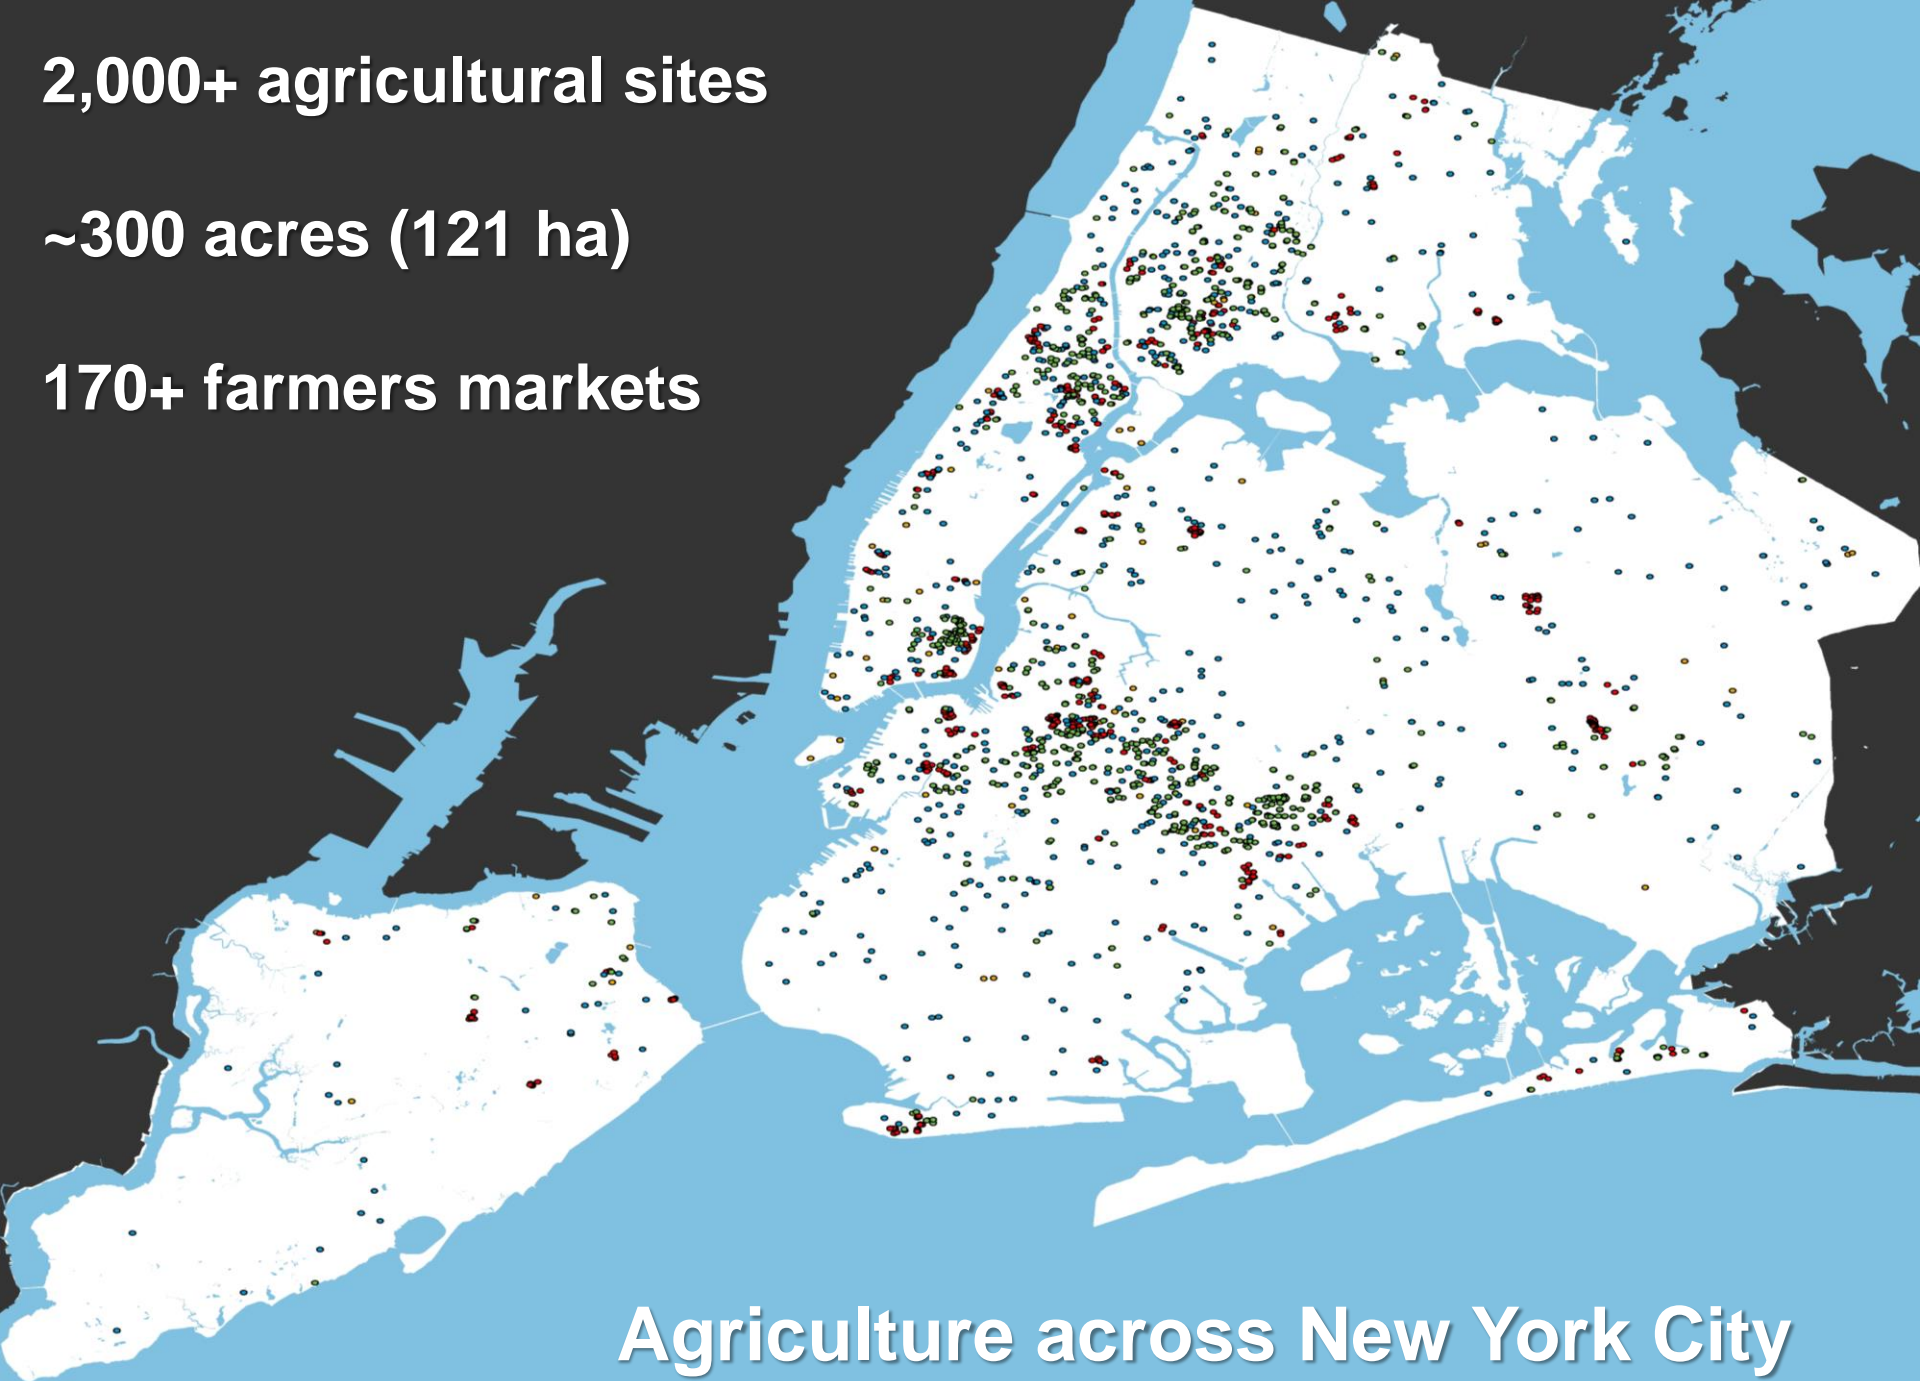

New York City's Agricultural History

2,000+ agricultural sites

~300 acres (121 ha)

170+ farmers markets

Agriculture across New York City

Agriculture in New York City

GreenThumb Community Gardens

GreenThumb Community Farms

Community Gardens and Farms

School Gardens

School Gardens

Rooftop Farms

Rooftop Farms

Workforce Development & Healthy Food Access

Workforce Development & Healthy Food Access

Resident Gardens in Public Housing Developments

Indoor Farming and Ag Tech

Indoor Farming and Ag Tech

Agricultural Demonstrations

Agricultural Demonstrations

Supporting Land Access for All

GreenThumb Community Gardens: More than Food

Community Development through Community Gardening

Community Development through Community Gardening

Maximizing Access to Open Space

GreenThumb gardens and farms are public open spaces stewarded by volunteers

- Open to public 20 hours per week
- Must accept new members
- Must host free events
- Members decide site design and use

Creative Land Use Decisions

Supporting Healthy Food Access

Supporting Healthy Food Access

THANK YOU

Bill LoSasso

Director, NYC Parks GreenThumb

william.losasso@parks.nyc.gov

+1 212.602.5301

